The Honorable William J. Casey
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

I am writing on behalf of one of my constituents,
[redacted] who has contacted my office regarding her divorce settlement case. Her ex-husband, [redacted] is an employee at the C.I.A.

Although I do not normally become involved in cases involving domestic or legal problems, I am concerned about [redacted] financial situation. Unfortunately, [redacted] final divorce of May 5, 1982 occurred several months before President Reagan signed the C.I.A. Retirement and Benefits Act which might have proved more favorable to her.

STAT

[redacted] is hopeful that your agency will work with the attorneys in this case to bring about a more reasonable financial settlement for her as a destitute C.I.A. ex-wife. It is my understanding that she has spoken with [redacted] of your legal department about the case.

I appreciate that you may not be able to comment about the nature of this domestic legal case; however, I am hopeful that the C.I. A. will offer [redacted] compassionate and appropriate assistance.

Thank you for your attention to this request.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL D. BARNES
